

THREE SENDS · EACH UNDER 15 MINUTES · WITHIN TWO DAYS

Three sends, and families feel this PD

PD that isn't used within two days mostly evaporates. Each action below sends something you built or armed in the session. Do all three, check the boxes, done.

SEND 1 The message you scheduled ~5 min

Your lab message is drafted, voiced, repaired, and scheduled; it's done. Give it one last read in your own email and let it go out on time. Done beats perfect, and this one is both.

☐ Sent · What it was: _____

SEND 2 Run the batch: three positive notes ~10 min

Run the batch prompt from the handout, pick three starters, and personalize each for a real student in your own words and your own email. Improvement-focused and warm; one true sentence each. This is the habit the research validated.

☐ Three notes sent, each personalized · Week two batch scheduled for: _____

SEND 3 The reply you've been sitting on ~10 min

Every inbox has one. Describe the situation to the tool, no names, and ask for calm, firm, and warm. Run the voice pass, add the specifics in your own email, and send it. If the original made you angry, tomorrow morning still counts as within 48 hours.

☐ Sent · What it unblocked: _____

THE STANCE, POCKET-SIZED
Families hear you, not the tool.

Review and personalize everything. Hard news travels by voice.

Stuck? All three prompts are on the handout, copy-ready. Start with Send 1; it's already written.
